

MORE TROOPS MUTINY; REVOLUTION AT HAND.

*Whole Russian Empire In Uproar.
Bloody Encounters of Constant Occurrence—Peasants Await Signal from St. Petersburg for Uprising.*

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

ST. PETERSBURG, July 5.—Dispatches received here today from Samara state that two regiments of Cossacks have mutinied and presented a series of political and service demands. The officers promised the soldiers demands if the mutineers would return to duty; but the men replied that they would be satisfied only with compliance with all of their demands. The mutineers command the situation but are not indulging in excesses. The situation is complicated by the fact that in Samara the revolutionists are pushing a movement to proclaim a republic in case a general strike is declared and may seize the present opportunity to further their aims.

The ferment among the soldiers and sailors at Odessa and Sebastopol continues. No inkling of the reported rioting and pillaging at Vladivostok has reached the Russian public but the military authorities, who control the telegraphs, are able to withhold for days any news of such conditions. A meeting of the Congress of Peasants' Unions, representing twenty-four provinces, with delegates from the Social, Revolutionary and Labor parties and the Finnish Red Guard, was held in Helsinki today.

The Congress adopted a resolution to call a general rising if the Parliament should be dissolved and to make all preparations for a revolution, but to await the signal from St. Petersburg.

OFF FOR SIBERIA.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
MOSCOW, July 5.—Maria Spiridonova, who killed Chief of Police Lunin at Tambov, was today sent to Siberia, with other prisoners. Spectators at the railway station bade her keep a stout heart, to which she replied: "We shall soon be back."

POLICE CHIEF BEATEN.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
GOMEL, July 5.—The peasants of the village of Sultanava today attacked the Superintendent of Police and beat him almost to death. Troops have been sent to the village.

MISCHIEF-MAKERS ARRESTED.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
NISHNI NOVGOROD, July 5.—Two laborers were arrested today in the neighboring town of Tolchok for circulating a proclamation of an anti-Jewish programme. A score of similar literature was found on them.

STRIKERS TO BE EXPELLED.
The prefect has also ordered that striking building trades employes shall be expelled from Moscow. The Moscow City Council has decided that relief for the unemployed shall not be extended to strikers.

Police activity against the "patriotic" who are trying to incite anti-Jewish uprisings is reported from various sections of the country. The local authorities evidently have taken a warning from the change in sentiment in official circles at St. Petersburg since publicity was given to the Bialystok events.

The policemen of Bialystok who were caught firing revolver shots which were ascribed to Jewish revolutionists, precipitating a renewal of the massacre, have been dismissed from the service.

DEATH PENALTY IS CHIEF TOPIC.
The Council of Empire discusses proposed abrogation.

Russian Government Adopts Conciliatory Methods in Dealing With Peasants in Hope to Stay Rapidly Rising Tide Against Czar and His Advisers—Goremykin Would Quit.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)
ST. PETERSBURG, July 5.—The Council of the Empire spent the day discussing rules of order. The relationship of the reactionary and liberal wings was shown on the vote to deprive members of the right to present popular petitions, which proposition was rejected after warm debate.

The treatment of the bill for abrogation of the death penalty was the subject of general discussion in the lobby of the Council. The general impression is that the bill will require some modifications, the exact nature of which will be discussed at the caucus of the Constitutional Democratic members tomorrow.

There is much sentiment for the practically unlimited right of Government-General to order offenders to be tried by military courts, allowing this to be done only in time of actual armed uprisings. This was intended to effect the same object as the civil code, which provides the death penalty only in cases of attempts on the life of the Emperor or violation of the quinquennial regulations.

GOREMYKIN READY TO QUIT.
Premier Goremykin and all the members of the ministry except M. Stolypin, were present at today's sitting of the Council. The tone of their remarks tended to confirm the Reich's surmise that the fall of the ministry has been postponed on account of the refusal of the Constitutional Democrats to participate in a coalition cabinet.

Premier Goremykin today reiterated in private conversation that he was anxious to retire.

The Council of the Empire today settled, and he declared it to be the duty of the New York association to take the lead in a consistent movement for the betterment of conditions.

He said in part: "To my mind, we are in a lethargy of inertia. We hear paens of prosperity sweetly sung on every side. Unexampled totals mark the measure of success. We have engaged in expenditures of capital on a scale so vast that it makes the financial operations of other days seem petty by comparison."

"Labor was never before so fully or so profitably employed; business was never so active. And some of us may be sure that we are not without a situation that gives such evidence of health and growth as should ever come because we have failed to enact proper legislation, the blame for that disaster would lie against the bankers. We have engaged in expenditures of capital on a scale so vast that it makes the financial operations of other days seem petty by comparison."

VANDERLIP CAUTIONS NEW YORK GROUP AGAINST FUTURE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

BLUFF POINT (N. Y.) July 5.—Frank A. Vanderlip, vice-president of the National City Bank of New York, was one of the principal speakers at the New York State Bankers' Association convention today. His topic was "The Currency."

Vanderlip said that the currency problem in this country is far from settled, and he declared it to be the duty of the New York association to take the lead in a consistent movement for the betterment of conditions.

He said in part: "To my mind, we are in a lethargy of inertia. We hear paens of prosperity sweetly sung on every side. Unexampled totals mark the measure of success. The United States will probably name a peacekeeper, Guatemala and Salvador are making overtures for the arbitration of their troubles resulting from the alleged activity of Salvador in support of the revolutionary movement against the Guatemalan government.

Guatemala, and it is likely the United States will be selected as the country in which the arbitration board will meet.

The first intimation of outside interference in Guatemalan affairs was when the State Department sent the Maribhead, Panama, to prevent meddling, and Mexico and the United States both made it clear that they would look with disfavor upon any combination of Central American powers to overthrow President Cabrera of Guatemala.

The Mayflower, commonly known as the President's yacht, but really a very efficient gunboat, has been ordered to Santo Domingo, and she is to be joined by the Dixie with a number of marine troops, and the Wabash, the battleship, will be in every harbor of Santo Domingo where there is a customs collector.

that the Osceola has left on the search. The Laurel was fully provisioned. She carried a crew of five officers and 14 men.

UNIONS MAY NAB SCHOOLS.

Association Proposed to Keep Public Instruction Out of Hands of Federation.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, July 5.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Sentiment is springing up in favor of the establishment of a civic organization to watch, with careful scrutiny, the conduct of the public schools. Among business men and people in all walks of life, this feeling has begun to manifest itself in view of the prospect confronting Chicago that its schools will be given over into the control of labor radicals and extremists during the coming year.

Major Dunne is expected Monday to announce the appointment of eight trustees and it is expected they will be favorable to the Teachers' Federation.

Need is felt for the formation of a body of public-spirited men and women fathers and mothers who will give liberally of their time and energies to guard the education of their little folks. This proposed association will bear the name of the Municipal Voters' League to the City Council.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

FIERCE DROP OF THE TONOPAH-EXTENSION STOCK.

Decline of Over Ten Millions of Dollars in a Week—Quarrel Between Charles M. Schwab and John MacKane Responsible for the Latter's Course.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
DENVER (Colo.) July 5.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Differences between Charles M. Schwab and John MacKane of Pittsburgh, both large stockholders in the Tonopah-Extension Mining Company, have resulted in MacKane throwing all his holdings on the market, forcing a decline in the stock from $14.50 a share to $4 within a week.

As there are 500,000 shares outstanding, the decline totals $10,250,000. A. D. Parker, vice-president of the Colorado and Southern, and one of the large stockholders, says there is no reason, save the quarrel, for the decline, which has cost him a million. He expects to get it back.

CONVICT "PROMOTED."

Embezzler of School Funds Gets "Position" Vacated by Banker Who Was Released.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
JOLIET (Ill.) July 5.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Men accustomed to the good things of life are eating suppers of bread, molasses and tea, and then, tired after their day's hard work, go to bed in 4x7 cells in the penitentiary.

One of these, Newton C. Dougherty of Peoria, convicted of the embezzlement of public school funds, dressed in prison garb, bends over the books as through the day. He is one of the two keepers of the criminal records of the prisoners, holding the place left vacant when E. S. Dreyer, a banker, left Joliet a free man.

Dougherty first was put to work in the broom factory, sorting broom corn, but when Dreyer's term of imprisonment was ended the former's familiarity with figures and book-keeping made him the man for the place.

HOME RULE IN SIGHT.

Prominent British Officials Indicate Strong Irish Measure Is Being Prepared.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
DUBLIN, July 5.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's reply to John Lonsdale in the House of Commons relative to Irish government matters, and the remarks made by the latter in reply, have resulted in a home-rule address from the urban council, tend to confirm a rumor in Dublin that the government is now incubating a home-rule bill as its principal measure for the next session.

It will not, however, be called "The Home Rule Bill," and will not follow the lines laid down by Gladstone, but it is expected to give considerable legislative powers to the Irish Representative Assembly and some executive control.

RICHES FOR SMELTERMEN.

Nearly Half Million Will Be Distributed by Trust to Faithful Employees.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
DENVER, July 5.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Four hundred thousand dollars will be distributed among the smeltermen employed by the American Smelting & Refining Company. The pay days will be July 2 and 10. Each smelterman will receive as a bonus 10 per cent. of the total of his yearly wages.

June 1, all office employees of the company received bonuses of 10 per cent.

At that time no mention was made of the smelter employees, but since then the trust has decided that they should be included.

It is not known whether employees of the mill trust were considered as an affiliated corporation, will receive bonuses.

POLICE CLASH WITH DOWNS
Cossack Member of Russian House Is Beaten.
Stormy Scenes at Opening Incident's Discussion.
Open Threats Made Against Council of Empire.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—AM.
ST. PETERSBURG, July 5.—It was a stormy scene at the opening of the lower house of Parliament today, which further emphasized the differences between the Constitutional Democrats and their radical allies and the Government.

M. Sidelnikoff, a radical Cossack member of the House, was beaten in the hands of the police last night after having been arrested for exciting a crowd of people to resist the police, who were breaking up one of the mass meetings which are becoming more frequent.

When M. Sidelnikoff was searched, police headquarters a revolver was found. He was released later in the evening.

When the House opened today, Sidelnikoff gave his version of the fair and proposed that the House impeach the Minister of the Interior, asking him what measures had been taken to punish the policemen who were guilty of assaulting a member of Parliament and to prevent a recurrence of such incidents in the future.

M. Aladin, the story Danton of the House, then made a wild harangue denouncing the government for permitting such violations of the inviolability of the persons of the members.

He declared that he expressed the views of the Group of Toli when he announced that if such an incident occurred no minister would be permitted to speak in the House, and he could not even answer for their personal safety.

The statements of M. Aladin became so violent that Premier Mourmoutzoff repeatedly called him to order and the speaker finally was forced, amid a wild tumult, to leave the tribune.

had not differed so widely from that which he had said before.

members his personal assurance that an-because of the fireproofing clauses in the trade agreement between the Mason Builders' Association and the Bricklayers' Union.

About two months ago the company applied to the Federal Court for an injunction restraining the bricklayers from refusing to work on buildings where a contract for fireproofing material as a sub-contractor and the application was denied. The United States Circuit Court, it was learned yesterday, has since then given the company the privilege of a hearing before an examiner which it has appointed to see if any new evidence can be brought out which will change the decision denying the injunction.

The bricklayers will take the stand that they cannot be compelled to work if they do not want to work.

BURGLAR'S COAT IMPRISONS PAIR.

SLEUTHS SEIZE TWO ALLEGED ROBBERS BY CLEVER WORK.

Well-worn Garment Discarded by House Thief Is Used Successfully by Local Detectives in Search for Men Wanted for Stealing Valuables from Rooms of Broadway Terrace.

With nothing but an old discarded coat as a clue, two local police detectives followed the movements of two men over the country and yesterday arrested both of them and placed them behind the bars, on a charge of burglary. Detectives Talamantes and Ritch handled the case, which is remarkable in many ways. The two alleged burglars are P. L. Rhodes and Frank Rosen, who are believed by the police to be criminals from the East.

On the night of June 24 the apartments of A. W. Newington, in the Broadway Terrace, No. 207, North Broadway were visited by burglars who ransacked the rooms. An investigation showed that the burglars had stolen two watches, a pearl brooch, and a suit case full of new clothing which belonged to Newington. One of the burglars took off his old coat and put on Newington's more prepossessing garment.

The burglar's well-worn coat gave the police only a slim clue, but it was taken up with a will. The discarded garment bore the mark of a tailoring establishment in Chicago. The fact was communicated with through the Chicago police, whose inquiry showed that the garment had been made for a man living in Michigan City, Ind.

ROZEN FOUND ON STREET.

The police in the Indiana city brought to light the identity of the man who bought the coat and the Los Angeles detectives were furnished with a description of Rosen, which was telegraphed to Los Angeles several days ago. Detectives Talamantes and Ritch scoured the city for Rosen and finally got sight of him yesterday while he was strolling along South Spring street. They arrested him and began a search for his partner, Rhodes, whom they soon discovered in a South Main street resort.

When both men had been caught the officers went to the place where they had been living and searched their room, finding both the stolen watches, the brooch, the suit case and several of the stolen garments.

The police believe they have a clear case against both the prisoners and that they will be convicted of the burglary. The police believe that Rosen and Rhodes have criminal records in Indiana and Illinois and also are guilty of a number of robberies in this city as many articles supposed to have been stolen were found in their room.

SHOOTS AT TWO WOMEN.

Robert Hackenbush shot Emma Meyer and attempted to shoot Eva Gilbert at No. 445 North Alameda street, last evening about 10 o'clock. Trouble arose over a love affair between Hackenbush and the Meyer woman. She screamed for help, and the Gilbert woman rushed to assist her. After shooting the Meyer woman through the left arm, Hackenbush thrust his revolver toward the Gilbert woman and fired, but missed. The Meyer woman was sent to the Receiving Hospital.

MAY MAKE GOOD.

R. S. McCall, formerly treasurer of the Grand Operahouse, was brought back to this city yesterday from Salt Lake by Detective Jones and placed in the City Jail charged with embezzlement. It is alleged that McCall took $100 from funds belonging to the theater and fled to Salt Lake. He is said to have made a partial confession. He will be arraigned today unless his former employers withdraw the charge against him. It is hinted that some of his friends intend making up the shortage and thus save the young man from prison.

TO BLANK SPACE IN A MAGAZINE.

What's this! A half page without anything on it!

Not even a quatrain, yet room for a sonnet?

How came it that such a space failed to get colored?

By "Madison Clinton" or "Frank Dompster Scollard"?

A rather small space to exhibit much art in.

Then why not reserve it for "Edward S. Martin"?

Or, if they thought they could put but a dab in.

Then why not be courteous and let "John B. Tabb" in?

Now where was the agent of that babbling trio—

Ubiquitous "Elsa" and "Zona" and "Theo"?

Yes, somebody blundered—so careless, so reckless.

To let any one of those mentioned go unchecked!

But, thank you, Sir Editor, for this brief space in

In Magazine Verse Land a charming oasis.

Far fairer than latter-day lyric or sonnet.

Is this virgin half-page without a thing on it!

An African Prophet.

The African natives were much interested in the building of the great bridge across the Zambesi at Victoria Falls, says the June World's Work. They were mystified as the cantilever arms crept out from the cliffs.

A chief was asked by his collector what he thought about it. He replied that the playmates of the gods could of course do anything, and went on to say that, evidently the chief god of the white man was holding up the two sides until further orders. Another always predicted disaster, and kept his belief until the latter end. When he saw the arch joined, he plied his faith to a tragedy for the first engine and train that would pass over. He was convinced that the bridge would fall down as soon as the train reached the middle.

With a view to seeing his prophecy fulfilled, he came with a full retinue, including many wives, and saw the trucks come over. We believe that he was sadly disappointed, and that the faith of his tribe in him as a prophet has waned.

Terms to Suit

Lots average one-third of an acre in size, laid out to best advantage in this gently sloping hill city. Glorious prospect from every lot, fronting on streets and boulevards so carefully arranged that views cannot be obstructed as the city is built up. Adequate building restrictions afford genuine protection to those who erect homes.

Rapid Transit to Athens

Athens is about six miles from Los Angeles, on the Garden division of the Redondo line, paralleled at this point by the Interurban San Pedro line. A third line is now being built, furnishing a more direct route, and guaranteeing a running time of twenty minutes, or less, between Athens and Sixth and Main streets.

Practically "Close In"

Athens is just far enough away—within easy striking distance of either Los Angeles or San Pedro, yet sufficiently removed from both to assure the quiet and exclusiveness which a select residence city should possess. At that, it is nearer in point of time to the office of the average Los Angeles business man than many residence districts within the city proper.

Lavish Improvements

Athens is being improved upon a lavish scale. Nine miles of one hundred-foot boulevards, with parkways in the center, are now being graded. Cement curbs and sidewalks are now going in. This work is being pushed rapidly. When the plan of development is worked out to completion, this entire hill will be like one tremendous landscape garden—every advantage being taken of the natural contours which characterize this unique residential city.

Classic architecture will rule even in the business district at Athens.

ATHENS

ON THE HILL

The same ideal of simplicity and beauty which came to its flower in the old Athens, underlies the development of Athens On The Hill.

Plan to make your home in a city of homes—where you will be protected in the improvements you make—where restrictions are such that there cannot be one discordant note in the beauty of the whole residence city. Build on the heights where there is something to see—where lots are so carefully laid out that nobody can ever obstruct your view. Buy in that quarter toward which substantial growth is tending—where values are now increasing, between Los Angeles and the sea, so near to each that development at either point directly increases the value of your property.

Athens is the only place in all Southern California that combines these advantages. From any point of view it is the logical point for investment. See it for yourself. Get a clear understanding of its location and what is being done at Athens. First hand knowledge will convince you that your money will earn most and bring you most at Athens.

BRALY WINS IN TENNIS GAME

GOOD SPORT IN SECOND DAYS TOURNAMENT PLAY.

Varley Is Defeated in Swift Contest and Bundy Takes Gowan Into Camp—in the Ladies' Singles Miss Peralta Beats Miss Browne—Events Ogan Park Nearing Finals.

The gathering on the courts was not as large as on the opening day, but those who collected were all enthusiastic who applauded for their favorites. The best match of the day took place when Hal Braly hipped up in the men's singles with Bob Varley of Berkeley. Varley has developed a strong, steady game in the last year, and he used his chops and cuts to good advantage against his big opponent. Braly played poorly at the beginning, but managed to get together before the end, and win from Varley.

Braly took the first game on his serve and Varley followed suit, on the second game. Braly then took the third game with splendid service and cross-court strokes. Varley won the next game, but lost the succeeding one. Braly placed so well the following game that Varley had to succumb.

The younger man won the next game by accurate placing, but Braly smashed all of his serves later, and won the set, 6-3.

The second set was a hard fight, each taking the first game on his serve. Varley took the next two games by choosing nicely, and Braly then answered the following two with brilliant backhand drives. Varley took a game on his serve, and Braly followed up his advantage by winning his serve game, and placed a cross-court shot, thereby winning the match by the score of 6-3, 7-5. This puts Braly in the semi-finals.

Another good match in this event took place in the morning when Braly took Gowan into camp by the score of 6-4, 6-2. Gowan plays a hard smashing game, and places a cross-court shot, and Braly followed up his advantage by winning his serve game, and placed a cross-court shot, thereby winning the match by the score of 6-4, 7-5. This puts Braly in the semi-finals.

The first set went to Miss Peralta by the score of 6-4. The next set went to Miss Browne, 7-5. Miss Peralta could not break the wind that was blowing steadily to win. The last set went to her, however, by cross-court play, and thus enabled her to win the match, by the score of 6-4, 7-5, 6-3.

Miss Florence Sutton beat Miss Alice Scott by the score of 6-4, 6-1, by her winning cross-court drives.

The best match in the ladies' doubles took place when Miss Florence Sutton and Mrs. Hendrick beat Miss Conger and Miss Browne. Mrs. Hendrick still is the sure, fast driver that she always has been, and she and Miss Sutton were too much for the younger players. The match went to the Hendrick-Sutton team by the score of 6-4, 5-7, 6-4.

Tomorrow the events will be played down to the final. While the Braly-Varley match was being contested, the announcement was made that one of the world's against from Sports Douglass on it, but to express the feeling of the players, in the words of Col. Seymour, when the announcement was made that the Pasadena girl had beaten "They all felt that they had won a lot of energy."

Ladies' singles—Florence Sutton beat Scott, 6-4, 6-1; Miss Dillon beat Scott, 6-4, 6-1; by default; Mrs. Seymour beat Miss Conger, 7-5, 6-3; Miss Peralta beat Browne, 6-4, 6-2; 6-4.

NEW WEIGHT RECORD MADE.

Dennis Mahoney of Boston Clan Na Gael, Huris Fifty-six-Pound Shot Over Thirty-nine Feet.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) BOSTON, July 5.—Officers of the Clan Na Gael organization of Massachusetts announced last night that Dennis Mahoney exceeded the world's record in throwing the 56-pound weight at the annual field day of the society in Revere yesterday. Mahoney threw the weight, Irish style, with one hand, after an unlimited run a distance of 39 ft. 9 in. In 1903, J. S. Mitchell threw the 56-pound weight 38 ft. 5 in.

Good Fishing on San Gabriel.
Reports of good trout fishing are coming in from the vicinity of Hayes, Potter's Mountain View Camp on the San Gabriel. Tuesday morning a party of four from Azusa, consisting of C. V. Simpson, P. A. Herron, E. D. Simpson and J. R. Levy, each took the limit along the stream about an eighth of a mile from the camp. Reports came that trout fishing is better still about a mile down the river, and large catches are being made. The warm weather has caused the river to reach a good fishing level, and as the pools become more clearly cut, the speckled beauties congregate in larger numbers.

RACING AT SANTA ANA.

Small Crowd, Light Betting and Slow Track Mark Second Day of Harness Horse Meet.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.) SANTA ANA, July 5.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A slow track and a small crowd marked the second day's meet of the Santa Ana Harness Horse Association. The betting on the auction pools was light and very little money changed hands.

The first race was a 2:25 pace, and proved such a farce that it was declared off after the second heat. J. P. Strubling protested against Ora Bell working out in his hobble, and as his horse, Pop Eye, failed to show against Prince, owned by McNeal Bros., the event was scratched.

In the 2:19 trot the three heats were run without any change in the position of the horses, as follows: Athabasca (G. L. Warlow) 2:17; Elk (M. J. Mosher) 2:18; Era (William Morgan) 2:19; George (W. Ford) 2:20; Besse (J. A. Jones) 2:21; 2:17.

The 2:30 trot had two entries, Irene H. (Tom Collins) and Klamath Maid (G. W. Ford). Klamath Maid won the race; time 2:26 1/4, 2:27 1/4, 2:27 flat.

NEIL GETS ANOTHER CHANCE.

Featherweight Champion Abe Attell is Willing to Take on Bantamweight Champion at Later Date.

Abe Attell and Frankie Neil met yesterday and discussed their fight, and the conference ended in Attell promising Neil another opportunity to try for the featherweight title.

Neil assured Attell that he was convinced by Kid Hermann's allegations that the latter was robbed of a decision here when he fought Abe, and figured that he would have an easy time beating him.

Neil's face was battered and bruised, and showed plainly the effects of the hundreds of stinging blows administered by Attell. Abe, too, had a few beauty spots and a beautiful pair of black eyes. His vanity compelled him to wear colored glasses to hide the marks from his friends.

The receipts of the house were $1350, of which Attell received $1300 and Neil $1200.

Attell now wears the gold belt valued at $500, emblematic of the featherweight championship.

BOOKMAKERS HIT HARD.

Pay Twice on Returns from Race at Windsor in Which Beau Brummel is Five to One.

Bookmakers and race track gamblers operating on Vernon avenue received a severe jolt yesterday afternoon when they found it necessary to pay twice on one race. The confusion was occasioned by two horses that had won firsts, respectively, in the second and third races at Windsor, being placed at second. Before this had been communicated to the poolroom, many tickets had been cashed on the horses.

In the second race Beau Brummel, at 5 to 1, had been announced the winner, and later, after many hundreds of dollars had been paid out, the bookmakers were compelled to pay on the favorite, Attention, at 3 to 1.

There was a rumor of wire tapping, and the poolroom will not do any business until it investigates.

MOCTEZUMA EXTENDS STAY.

Descendant of Conquered Aztec Martyr Likes Los Angeles and Will Remain a Month.

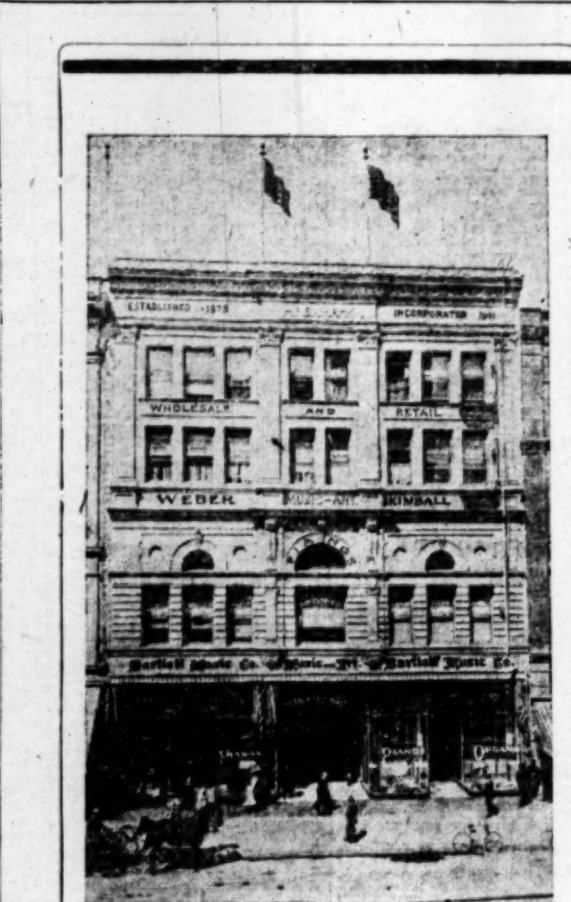

A lineal descendant of Moctezuma, the martyred Aztec emperor who was put to death by Cortes, the Spanish conqueror of Mexico, is a visitor in Los Angeles.

Lic. José Lopez Moctezuma is not a warrior, but is a man of peace and the ruling genius of Mexico in its present progressive stage. He is a distinguished lawyer and a prominent citizen of the Mexican capital.

At home Señor Moctezuma is counsellor for the Mexican Central Railway, but he is taking a vacation this summer and with his wife, four children and two servants is registered at the Hotel Orfila.

Señor Moctezuma laughingly speaks of his entourage as the "Mexican troupe" and the members do present a numerous appearance when out on their jaunts about the city.

All of the Moctezumas are delighted to be here originally to pass but a few days, they have unanimously voted to stay for other reasons of their itinerary and devote a whole month to this city and the surrounding points of interest.

$1.84 IN EVERY PACKAGE

We do not mean that $1.84 in currency is actually enclosed in each package of Pillsbury's Best Breakfast Food—Vitas. But we do mean it saves you that much over the ready-to-eat kinds. Besides you get "Pillsbury" quality, and that's always the best. A package containing two full pounds costs 20 cents. When prepared, it makes 12 pounds. The ready-to-serve kind, containing about 7 1/2 of a pound to the package cost 15 cents. A full pound would cost about 17 cents. 12 pounds would cost $2.04. So the difference between 20 cents and $2.04 indicates the saving when Vitas is used—$1.84. Use Vitas regularly. Put $1.84 in the bank every time you buy a package. Vitas is a delicious food, it is the "White Heart" of the Wheat berry—The very life of the grain.

The best match of the day in the ladies' singles was that in which Miss Peralta defeated Miss Browne in a game of four matches, and the men's singles, the doubles and juniors' singles, all attracted the attention of the tennis fans throughout the morning and afternoon.

The gathering on the courts was not so large as on the opening day, but those who collected were all enthusiastic and applauded their favorites.

The best match of the day took place between Hal Braly and Bob Varlet of Berkeley. The match was a strong, hard-fought game, and Braly won in three sets, 6-4, 7-5, 6-3.

Another good match in this event was played in the morning when Bundy defeated Gowan in the ladies' doubles.

Scholarship contestants did not altogether escape the casualties of the Fourth of July. Fannie Wolff got too intimate with a Roman candle and the spiteful thing hissed back at her. Result, right hand in a sling, but enough fingers operating to write out receipts for Times subscriptions. Fannie is pretty plucky, and not a mean escaped her as the powder was washed off and the wound dressed.

As if this was not trouble enough, Fannie had another knock yesterday that sent her off that third rung of the ladder, where she has been serenely sitting ever since the second day of the contest.

The day following the Fourth was marked by a general rise and fall in contestant columns—especially among the leaders. Merle Prewitt maintained an utter silence and turned in no score whatever. Vivian Bassett appeared late in the afternoon with cheeks dyed a rosy red from her contact with sun and sea air on her Catalina trip. She was an gay and lively as ever, and incidentally left a few thousand points, which sent her to the top rung of the ladder.

CUCAMONGA CLIPPER.
Bertha Smith, the Cucamonga contestant, outdistanced all competitors, sending in the largest single score of the season—over 28,000 points—which sent her scurrying up among the "high five" with a rush, and caused consternation by her tremendous rise. She went up like a rocket and took possession of Fannie Wolff's place in the third row.

John Clayton of Long Beach was another high flyer, soaring up seven rows and landing in ninth place. Esther Zuber jumped up a row, and Estella Green quietly walked up two places and reached the row next the "high sixteen."

SANTA BARBARA SOARS.
Santa Barbara has waked up, and Miss Veda Snow, one of the Channel City candidates, sends in over 1700 points, raising her score to almost 2900. It will be remembered that it was a Santa Barbara boy who captured the first prize last year, and the citizens of that thrifty city will want to see this year's candidate win out, too.

Paul Steintorf, the Imperial Valley candidate, rises with the tide. This is a pun about the rising river that flows roundabout and in and out of the contest, where Paul lives. He is accustomed to breathing high waters and keeping his head above the tide.

SHE'S A HUSTLER.
Jennie Bloom is a little hustler. She wears two curls, one over either shoulder and she lives at No. 914 Boston street, and started downtown yesterday under her parasol with no hat on. The contest, she had heard about the contest and it just appealed to her. Hitherto Jennie has been so busy going to the Custer-avenue school that she hadn't time to read the papers or know what was going on. She decided on the spot to enlist the public school, and came at once to headquarters, enrolled, got a receipt, book and went to work. She rounded up subscriptions enough to start with a score of 725. How is that for a 12-year-old?

A MICHIGAN GIRL.
Gladys Eastman of 131 W. Sixteenth street is a steady climber. She is a graduate of the city grammar school, a Michigan girl by birth—who has lived in Los Angeles five years, during which time she has regularly attended the public schools. She has a large circle of friends and acquaintances who want to see her succeed in winning a scholarship. Gladys is an enthusiastic worker and will come out a winner. Her picture appears on this page this morning.

James Fisher is "getting busy." He has graduated into the 1000 column. He is right after that Brownberger scholarship now, and just watch him climb.

HER BROTHER DROWNED.
Sad news reached headquarters yesterday.

GLADYS EASTMAN.

terday of the accidental drowning of Gordon Allen, brother of Grace, the Sawtelle contestant. A telegram from Portland, Or., yesterday noon announced that the young man, who was but two years his sister's senior, was drowned there while in bathing. No further particulars were given. Grace had been working all the forenoon taking subscriptions and had made a splendid record, water in the afternoon Mr. D. W. French, one of the old soldiers, and a long-time friend of the family, came to scholarship headquarters with the and tidings. Gordon Allen had just finished a business course in the San Jose schools and was a young man of great promise. The family were given at each of their sorrow. "We old soldiers will look after Grace's interests for a few days, now," said Mr. French, as he tears gathered in his eyes, and he turned in her score up to date. He went away with a subscription book in his pocket. "We always take a great interest in the boys and girls who are trying to educate themselves," he said, "and we are all especially interested in Grace Allen, who is one of the finest girls I ever knew and I've known her from her earliest childhood."

CLOSE COUNTS.

A few points have power to make the difference of a row. Some close scores were in the column yesterday morning and there are some even closer this morning. Mildred Beer and Laura Lloyd stood but seven points apart and but thirteen separated Edna Wagner and Myrtle McCarger, while the Oxnard boy and the Imperial Valley contestant had a little difference of 25 points. Earl Robinson out-distanced Minnie Pomeidel by 72 points and Frank Wiggins and Ignatius Parker looked at each other over a slender span of 119 points. Blake Tantau was just 105 points ahead of Esther Zuber.

PRIZES AT STAKE.

The contestant having the highest score at the close of the contest will have first choice of the following scholarships. The second highest will have second choice, and so on to the end of the list. From the list of list of scholarships will be enlarged as the number of contestants increases.

"Cliffton-by-the-Sea"

The Real Newport of the West

The most superbly situated and handsomely improved home-by-the-sea of anything on the Pacific Coast—situated just south of Hotel Redondo and for two full miles fronts the sea. The land lies high and is a beautiful mesa sloping to the bluff overlooking the sea.

This is the magnificent tract of ground owned by H. E. Huntington, Los Angeles; Elenor Martin, Peter Martin, Walter Martin, Genevieve Riley and J. Downey Harvey, of San Francisco; and which has been withheld from the market until the magnificent embellishments that have been for six months, and are now going in, might be inaugurated. Under the personal guidance of V. J. Rowan, engineer, the work is assured to be of highest character. $300,000 will have been expended on this charming situation when the entire improvement is completed.

The entire tract is sewered, has cement walks, curbs and gutters. Piped for gas and water, delightfully wide streets, with beautiful palms and ornamental trees. A unique feature of this ocean-side residence situation is the Esplanade—one hundred feet wide, lighted by electricity—think of it, two miles long, a beauteous stretch of driveway and promenade. To make the surf easy of access a convenient stairway will be built at each alternating street. From this show street the most fascinating marine view may be had.

The owners of this lovely situation are determined to make Cliffton-by-the-Sea THE watering place of Southern California and of the Pacific, as Newport is on the Atlantic.

As an investment, we unhesitatingly commend to our large clientele, and every investor of California, the opportunities afforded here and now. We shall be pleased to send you maps—or better still, take you to see this sea-side spot, show you the tremendous profit that awaits each purchaser at the opening prices, and the liberal terms offered.

Lots will be offered, for first time, Saturday, July 7th

LABOR FAMINE LOCKS WHEELS.

Employers Hit by Shortage of Willing Workers.

Local Market Cannot Supply Big Call for Help.

Wages Far Above Those Paid Twelve Months Ago.

Jam up against a labor famine are the employers of Los Angeles and vicinity. They are scouring the entire country for help. The scarcity of harvest men in the Kansas fields can be no greater than the local shortage of workers of every class. Humming industries, burdened orchards and valleys golden with grain appeal in vain for help that cannot be had. Repetitive employments agencies declare that never before was it so hard to find men and women to fill excellent positions that are proffered. The "help wanted" columns of The Times bear out the assertion.

"I could give places within an hour to 250 men if I only could find that number," declared an agent yesterday as he chafed on his blackboard in order for a score of men and women to go into the country to pick fruit. It is not in the lighter and more ordinary pursuits alone that the famine is felt, but in every trade and occupation. Skilled artisans and common laborers alike are needed, and, alike, they are not to be had, even at the offer of tempting wages, for there has been a decided advance in the rates of remuneration within the last year.

The rise in wages ranges from 25 cents to $1 and even more a day, according to the conditions of the labor market in the various lines of work.

FRANTIC CALLS FOR HELP.
Ranchers, railroads, mine owners, contractors, builders, manufacturers, dairymen and all other classes of employers have sent frantic calls to this city for men and women needed to help carry on important work. Development in many lines is retarded, fruit is rotting on trees, grain crops are endangered and prosperity is somewhat checked simply because there is too much of it.

Down at a Second-street employment agency yesterday a rancher from Vineland for several hours in the hope that he might find a worker who would take a place on a ranch at a salary of $5 a month and board, equal to about $20 a week. The work is not heavy nor of a kind requiring skill, and yet the man from the country, who had been trying for a week to secure help, was unable to fill the place.

There was a hurry call for men to harvest melons in the Imperial Valley at 25 cents an hour, also for men to pack melons at the same pay.

Here are a few of the orders taken from a long list: The total number of men needed, country, $2.50 a day; miners, $3; muckers, $2.50; laborers, $2.50; married man for orchard, $4 a month; a man for a month, $4 a month; ranch hands, $30 to $35 a month; board; man for hay press, $2 a day and board; box and crate maker, $2 a day and board; a man for a month, $4 a day; engineers, $3.50 to $4 a day; section foremen, $5 a month; track foremen, $3 a day.

WORK FOR THOUSANDS.
There are calls for electricians, woodworkers, blacksmiths, bakers, and nearly every other trade of common sort. Scores of them are rushing into the thousands. One agent said yesterday that if five thousand men should come into Los Angeles today, seeking work of any kind at wages that would not only pay their living expenses but give them a big margin for the savings account, they could be placed at once.

The opening of mountains and seaside summer resorts has caused a lively demand for cooks, waiters and other help. One place has a job for a second cook at $30 a month and board; others for "try" cooks at $40. The building trades are giving employment to every competent applicant; factories of all kinds are rushing with orders and are taking on capable assistants. There is hardly a line of industry that has no openings for the right kind of employee.

NORTH CASHES IN.
Belts Seventh-street Property and a Large Ranch for Seven Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Col. R. J. Northam has converted two pieces of property into $700,000 worth of cash. The buyer is R. J. Busch, and the big deal was put through by Paul Schenck and Frank S. Doud. One piece of property is that on the southwest corner of Seventh and Valencia streets, and the other a 100-acre ranch just south of Manchester avenue on South Park. The Seventh-street property contains 200 feet frontage, extending west from Valencia street, improved with a four-flat building, a store and flat building, and the Westlake Stables property. The land was figured at $300 for the corner seventy feet, and $250 for the balance. The price of the entire city property was $150,000. The price of the ranch property was $250 an acre. There are a fine water plant, reservoir and other first-class improvements. Most of the land is in alfalfa.

HOPING THIS DREAM WON'T COME TRUE.

TOMMY JACOBS, who "managed" the late Aurelio Herrera into a state of coma, has been reclaimed by his environment.

Being thrust away in anger from the Herrera chile can after the fiasco, he went to work the Fourth of July as a waiter in a Spring-street "boozie" café.

Stripped of his rainbow rags, in scales, sir. I don't like scales myself, sir.

Nolan: Yes, I understand you are good at being scales.

Cas: Yes, sir; thank you, sir. (Exit waiter, who soon returns, bringing the provender.)

But (confiding the meat): This is also rather too raw.

Waiter (sighing): Yes, sir. Thank you, sir. That's what they said at the time.

If Battling Nelson should enter a certain café, Herrera's disgraced manager might have to serve him.

which he was only second clothes to the dude clothes of Willie Britt, he has donned an apron.

With a napkin neatly folded over his arm, he now purveys food to the sporting men with whom he formerly mingled.

After his first day's work in the café, Tommy went home and dreamed a dream.

He saw himself at his table in the café, and two men entered. One was Battling Nelson, and the other was Tom Jacobs' late rival, Battling Nelson's manager, Mr. Nolan.

They came sauntering in with a languid air, as Tommy used to saunter. And Nolan said: "Bat, this looks like a good table." And they sat down. Tommy raved because in his dream he couldn't help feeling "swelled up" when they chose his table.

The following dialogue then ensued: Bat: What do you say to a porterhouse steak, Nolan.

Waiter (bowing): Yes, sir; porterhouse steak, sir; thank you, sir.

Nolan: Have you any fresh fish?

Waiter: Fresh fish, sir. Yes, sir; thank you, sir.

Nolan (thrustily): Have all the scales taken off, do you understand? Scales, Jacobs (staring): Scales, sir; yes, sir; thank you, sir. I never forget

DEATH'S DASH AGAINST POST.

Miss Elenor Brown Killed in a Runaway.

Sister, Miss Adelaide Brown, Suffers Injury.

Shocking Driving Accident on the Street.

Miss Elenor Brown, daughter of Harrington Brown, No. 4575 Vermont avenue, was fatally injured last evening at 6:30 o'clock at Wilton and Sixteenth streets when she and her sister, Miss Adelaide, were hurled from a carriage by a runaway team. Death soon followed. Although seriously bruised and suffering, Miss Adelaide Brown will recover.

Frightened by the clanging of the bell of Los Angeles-Pacific inbound car No. 75, the horses which Miss Adelaide Brown was driving began to rear and plunge. The girl could not hold them and they began to run east on Sixteenth street. At Wilton street the horses plunged to the right, throwing the carriage against a sign post, and the two young ladies were pitched out. The terrible impact of the collision shot Miss Elenor Brown, who was sitting on the left side of the front seat, out of her place in the vehicle against the sign post. Her head came in contact with the post and the force of the blow crushed in the frontal bone of her skull.

Miss Adelaide Brown was hurled with equal violence, but the force of her fall was broken when she alighted in a pile of soft dirt some distance from the carriage.

Standing nearby at the time was Detective Chapman. He was powerless to prevent the fatality but rushed to the scene of the accident. He flagged inbound car No. 75, which was carrying a load of lumber, and sent the young ladies to the Fourth-street depot. From there they were taken to the Receiving Hospital. F. F. Sherman, No. 117 Arlington avenue, was on Sixth street at No. 46 and saw the accident. He leaped off and assisted the officer in caring for the victims. Mr. Sherman accompanied them in on the iron car.

DIES ON THE WAY.

From Sherman it was learned that Miss Elenor Brown recovered consciousness while on the car. He says the young lady realized that she had been seriously injured. She talked but little, although she was able to give her name and state that the car frightened the team. While on the way from the depot to the hospital, she gave a gasp and expired.

Sitting at her side in a dazed condition was her sister, Miss Adelaide, but did not seem to realize that her sister had died, but continued to hold one limp hand and caress the lifeless face.

Police Surgeon John Cook notified the father and mother of the injured and dead, and they soon arrived at the hospital. Mr. Brown directed that the body be taken to the undertaking parlors of Breese Bros.

RACE OF DEATH.

Detective Chapman, the only eye witness, gives the details of the accident.

"With almost incredible speed I saw the two wild animals dashing along Sixteenth street toward me," said the officer, "and every plunge the crazed animals seemed to hurt the carriage from curb to curb of the narrow street.

"Two white figures, one clinging to the lines and the other sitting calmly holding to the side of the vehicle, next leaped up in sight. The buggy was rocking to and fro. Faster and faster went the team, with the two young women in the carriage.

"Standing on the sidewalk I was held spellbound, believing that every moment both women would be hurled to death before my eyes.

"Then came the awful crash. I could not help looking. Power of speech and control of body had left me.

CRASH AGAINST POLE.

"Not a hundred feet from where I stood I saw the mad-headed horses sweep to the right, bringing the right front wheel of the carriage in contact with the post, the smaller of the two women thrown against the street sign pole, and the larger tossed like a bit of something up in the air.

"Although detained for a moment in the mad race of death, as soon as freed from the shock the horses dashed on down Sixteenth street. At Western avenue they attempted to turn south and threw the carriage against a telephone pole, demolishing it and freeing themselves.

"As the horses with the wrecked buggy dashed past me it seemed to awaken me from that awful spell. I ran to where the younger girl lay. I saw that she was not dead, and then rushed to where Miss Adelaide Brown—after a moment I learned her name was—lay on the ground. She was reviving and seemed not to have sustained as serious injuries as her companion.

"Car No. 46 was just slowing down near the corner, and a young man jumped off and came toward us. I arranged with him to assist in carrying the women into the car and then asked him to accompany them to the Receiving Hospital.

"Kindly the conductor of this car told me he would make as fast a run to the station as possible, when he learned that it might save the younger woman's life. As I learned afterwards he did make a very fast run. Having done all that I could I notified the Receiving Hospital and then Mrs. Brown. Never again do I wish to behold such a sight."

Miss Elenor Brown was the youngest daughter of Harrington Brown, who has been a prominent resident of Los Angeles for the past thirty years. She was 17 years of age and attended the Marlborough School. She was quite popular in the younger set of society, and was much admired, being rather tall and, very graceful, with large blue eyes and a mass of soft brown hair. While she went out a good deal, she was of a rather retiring disposition and spent most of her time in her home with her books, or driving or riding about the country.

Miss Adelaide Brown is her eldest sister. The dead girl leaves another sister, Miss Lucy Brown, who is two years older. She also leaves two brothers, Glasseil and Harrington Brown, Jr. The deceased was a niece of Mrs. Eleanor T. Brown, and a cousin of the latter's daughter, Miss Adelaide Brown of West Twenty-fifth street.

Harrington Brown and his late brother were prominent years ago in Los Angeles, and the family is connected with the city in various ways. Mrs. Brown, mother of the dead girl, was Miss Minnie Glasseil, the daughter of the well-known pioneer of that name.

DEATH CLAIMS PIONEER.

James Fitz-Morris Towell, Well-Known Progressive Citizen, Is No More.

James Fitz-Morris Towell, for thirty years a well-known resident of the city, died last night at his home, No. 2217 Figueroa street, after an illness dating back about four months, when he was stricken with paralysis. He passed away as he had lived, peacefully, surrounded by his family and friends.

Mr. Towell was born in Ardfer, County Kerry, Ireland, in 1825, and when 16 years old came to the United States. He was an orphan, and remained in New York for five years, and then went to Portsmouth, O., where he laid the foundations of his fortune.

He early displayed inclination toward commerce, and began to make his way with a dry goods store in Portsmouth. The establishment grew rapidly, until he found himself counted as one of the rich men of the community.

In 1849 he was wed to Seva Catherine Green of Staten Island, N. Y., and continued to make his home in Portsmouth. Here three daughters were born. For thirty-nine years Mr. Towell lived in Portsmouth, and then, with an ample fortune, he removed to Los Angeles in 1888. He became identified with the financial circles and was vice-president of the State Loan and Trust Company, which has since become known as the State Bank and Trust Company.

He was closely connected with the wonderful growth of Los Angeles during the last two decades, and was a public-spirited citizen, whose exemplary life was appreciated by his friends.

He was a member of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, and was junior warden of the church for years. He was also chairman of the financial committee of the diocese.

Mr. Towell leaves three daughters—Josephine Esther Towell, Mrs. Daniel McFarland and Mrs. William Friesner, all of this city; also three granddaughters—Louise McFarland, Sarah McFarland and James Towell Friesner. In the absence of Bishop Johnson, arrangements for the funeral have been delayed.

SPITZ DOG BITES GIRL.

While passing along the street near her home at 1250 East Fifth street last evening, Victoria Bell, aged 9, a daughter of William Bell, an employee of the city water department, was attacked by a spitz dog which bit her on the left thigh, inflicting a severe laceration. The girl fought the dog off and escaped further injury. It is said the canine belongs to a man of the name of Dangers.

TO DECIDE THE FATE OF FLOODED RAILROAD.

To decide the fate of the threatened main line of the Southern Pacific along the whole length of the encroaching flood waters of the Salton Sink, a special delegation with plenipotentiary powers to investigate and make its recommendations, left last night at 10 o'clock by special train for the scene of the trouble.

The party is headed by General Superintendent H. H. Ingram, Superintendent H. V. Platt, A. De Hue, district engineer, and Resident Engineer Titcomb. They will be absent a week and will make a thorough study of the situation, not only along the main line about Salton, but of the branch line through the Imperial Valley to Calexico, as well.

None of the party would venture an opinion as to the probable action to be taken as a result of their visit, but it was frank to acknowledge that the situation is grave beyond the direct apprehensions so far entertained.

Last night, the latest report from Salton showed the waters of the sea to be exactly nineteen feet and eleven

WOMAN VICTIM OF TOTEMITES.

Printers Frighten an Invalid to Coerce Husband.

Ironworkers Quit Good Job on Silly Order.

Bakers Scheme to Get Back Places They Lost.

Dire threats made by striking printers to the invalid wife of W. F. Hill, an industrial pressman, so preyed upon the woman's mind that she induced her husband to quit a position at good pay with the Phillips Printing Company, and thus to deprive his family of support that is needed greatly.

Failing to coerce Hill, whom the already had tricked by their underhanded tactics, the Hay-Penness crowd of jawsmiths, who long ago lost the strike inaugurated on January 1 conveyed to Mrs. Hill a message that her husband would meet with a sorry fate if he continued at work with the Phillips company.

Frightened for his safety, the woman begged her husband to give up the place that was paying him $25 a week. He now walks the street with other idlers, willing to work, but unable because of the threats of the laborites.

Desperate through the complete failure of their strike, the schemers at the head of the movement are concentrating their fire on the Phillips company in an effort to prevent it from getting the new city directory. The plan is to picket by loafers, who insult and harass the workmen, and have caused the employers to maintain a guard for their men in journeying to and from work.

HOLD UP MEN DAILY.

The thugs hold up men daily, and attempt to bribe them into giving up good jobs to become idlers and to sit in clogging an important industry. Lately they have been dogging C. P. Nichol, a printer, so persistently that the police probably will be called in to bring an end to the annoyance. The assassins of liberty told Nichol they would devil the life out of him if he continued his refusal to sell his manhood to the totem crowd.

It was in the Phillips shop that the laborites caused the foreman, C. L. Walton of Hollywood, to turn traitor to his employer by going over to the enemy the day after Phillips went East, thus thinking to cripple the shop, and put it in the laborite column. But the shop now is running full-handed, and, like all other open shops, is pressed with an abundance of orders. Every free shop now is equipped with a full crew of independent workmen, and the disgraced strikers could not get work if they sought it.

MORE OUT OF GOOD JOBS.

Sixty-five boiler makers, riveters and helpers in the employ of the Camden Iron Works, struck for higher pay yesterday, at the corner of Alameda and Central, where the company is engaged in the construction of what is to be the largest tank west of Chicago, its capacity being 1,600,000 cubic feet of gas. It is for the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company.

The demand of the walking delegates is that their followers be paid the same scale that rules in San Francisco, where unusual buildings and the suicidal tyranny of "Pinhead" McCarthy and other laborite leaders have forced wages up.

It was declared by the employers that work would be in full blast by noon today or by tomorrow morning. A new gang of workmen will be recruited at once, the prevailing wages being $2.50 a day for boiler makers, $2.70 for rivet-benders, and $2.50 for helpers. This range of wages is said to be higher than that in effect at most of the iron works in the city.

"The men gave us absolutely no warning of any kind," said William H. Wilson, manager of the company to a Times reporter. "A delegation of about a dozen of their number came to the office at 11 o'clock this morning and demanded an increase of 25 cents a day for the boiler makers, and 25 cents a day for the riveters. The helpers said nothing, waiting to see what would be done with their superiors. I told the men that I could not decide the matter without consulting headquarters at Camden, N. J., and I asked them to give me time to telegraph the home office. They refused to give me this time, and their words and entire attitude were unreasonable from start to finish."

"While this company has never asked men seeking employment here whether they belonged to the union or not, we being an open-shop company, I am certain that this strike is the result of the agitation of union hawks among our list of employees. The spokesman for the bunch this morning was a union man, and he seemed to have the men well schooled to their position in the matter. There is no doubt but that Pacific Coast unionism is making strong play to get the upperhand of Los Angeles. As far as I am concerned the union can never dictate in this business; I am a non-union man, and have good reasons for my opinions."

BAKERS' CAKE ALL DOUGH.

Beaten in their campaign of coercion, striking bakers yesterday endeavored to get back the jobs they so hastily gave up in an attempt to enforce boycott on Globe flour. One union follower boldly tore up his membership card in the afternoon and went to work in the Meek plant on San Pedro street, where thirty-five others are doing good work. The Meek shop is wide open, and the proprietors have refused further to be branded with the totem.

The bakers, who have willingly locked themselves out, are the victims of the union boss, who, it is said, have failed to keep an agreement to pay the strikers enough to maintain themselves and their hungry families in idleness.

The Master Bakers' Association has settled the terms on which the strikers will be reemployed. Each man must tear up his union card and come as an untrammelled workman.

Every important bakery in Los Angeles has swung into line as a non-union shop. They are working practically full-handed, and are turning out the usual amount of bread and cakes. There are two union shops, one employing two men and the other one.

AT THE CITY HALL.

TRACE DELAY TO SUPREME COURT.

BIG FIRMS AWAIT DECISION OF CONTRACTS.

Peculiar Trial of Vrooman Act May Affect Half-Million Dollars of Improvement Bonds Contractors Say They Must Bid High Till Case Settled—May Mean Long Wait.

Contractors are awaiting with a great deal of interest the decision of the Supreme Court on the validity of the contract made between the city and the Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton Company for paving and sidewalk East Ninth street, between Central and Santa Fe avenues. A point raised in the suit affects the whole scheme of Vrooman Act improvements in Los Angeles; a decision adverse to the validity of the contract would assail the validity of more than half a million street improvement bonds.

When bids were received for improving East Ninth street, it was found that the Fairchild-Gilmore-Wilton Company was low on the aggregate bid, but not on some of the separate items. The Council made a contract with this company because its aggregate bid was the lowest. A firm that had bid lower on two of the items brought suit to restrain the Street Superintendent from making out the assessments, on the ground that the work was not performed by the lowest bidder.

The attorneys for the Barber Asphalt Company are conducting the suit against the city, and this company has taken no contracts since on which the work was not the lowest bidder on all the items.

But most of the contractors have gone ahead, as usual, and have no reference to the suit in court, except to boost prices.

In improving a street four items are considered: Paving, laying the gutter, curbing and sidewalk. These four items are named separately in the Vrooman Act, and the courts have held that the property owners on a street can protest out any one of them without affecting the others. This is the strong point on which the attorneys for the Barber company have based their validity of the Council award. They hold that the act provides expressly for each of four improvements, and that the contract must be made with the lowest bidder on each item.

They assert that letting the contract to the lowest aggregate bidder paves the way for fraud, in that a firm may bid extremely low on paving in order to keep out competition, and then scoop itself up an exorbitantly high price for gutters and sidewalks.

The City Attorney's office answers this argument by asserting that the law provides that any one of the four improvements may be protested out without affecting the others, for the reason that the protest is an independent action to the time when the Council and the property owners are deciding on what work shall be done.

They find their justification in letting the contract to the lowest aggregate bidder in the following clause: The contract shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder for the work ordered at the prices named in his bid.

The city's attorneys argue that the use of the word prices in place of price contemplates that the bid is for more than one item, otherwise the singular form would be used. But all agree that the point is technical in the extreme, and some bond companies have refused to purchase securities based on such a contract. This suit is said to be responsible for the latest rise in prices for street improvement. Contractors profess to be taking a chance every time they accept a Vrooman Act contract.

Vrooman Act bonds are payable in ten equal annual installments, an alternative decision of the Council at any time during those ten years would invalidate all the outstanding indebtedness.

The city's attorneys express confidence that the case will be decided in favor of the validity of the contract; but they have worked on the brief that any other that has gone out of the City Attorney's office this year—and there is probably more at stake on the issue.

But the decision is one in which the city is not financially interested. The Vrooman Act makes provision for a contract between the contractor and the property owners in a given assessment district; the city is interested only to the extent of seeing that the streets are improved in such a manner that they will not afterward become a burden on the municipality.

For the city accepts streets when Vrooman Act work is finished, and cares for them forever after.

Property owners in almost every section of the city are interested in an early decision. About fifteen miles of streets will be paved as soon as the asphalt companies can get to the work. The big companies have been proceeding with extreme caution in order that they may not be left with several hundred thousand dollars of bonds and an adverse decision.

EXECUTIVE HOLIDAY.

MAYOR IN RETIREMENT.

Mayor McAlleer has disappeared momentarily from the municipal firing line, and Acting Mayor Summerland is on guard. Tuesday evening the Mayor and his wife dropped quietly from the public view, and the members of the Mayor's official family profess to know nothing of his whereabouts.

"FIXIT" IS DISCOURTEOUS.

The Municipal League has taken exception to the star chamber sessions of the Police Board. The grievance of the Executive Committee of the league is that the board treats its communications as private correspondence, and does not discuss them at open sessions.

IRVING H. HELLMAN, city inspector of reinforced concrete buildings.

Two weeks ago the league sent a letter to the Police Board, outlining a new plan for counting property frontage on applications for liquor licenses. The board made no public acknowledgment of the receipt of the communication, and it failed to mend its ways.

Last week the league sent a second communication, protesting against the reception accorded the first; again there was no response. Chosen Flail, the secretary, went to the City Hall yesterday to learn what had become of the league's communications. There has been no word from them since.

This filing took place at an executive session. Willard protested because the board did not make the communication public.

Yesterday morning Willard gave out the following "roast," which the league sent to the Police Board, and which the board failed to acknowledge in open session:

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

MORE STUNTS. Harry Schwerin is the young fellow who when sentenced to a long term in the State's prison for forgery dropped to the floor in Judge Smith's court, and made a sensational scene. While being taken north he did several other stunts that kept the deputy sheriffs busy in chasing the giggling and laughing crowd, where he was put under special guard in the county jail, he tried to borrow a knife to "trim his finger nails" in the morning before he was taken to the State's prison.

ASKS DAMAGE. L. S. Price has begun suit against the Los Angeles Railway Company to recover damages. On March 2 he was riding his bicycle when he was run into at Main and Sixteenth streets, and claims to have been seriously injured.

OLIVER DIVORCE. Ella M. Oliver was granted a divorce from William Oliver, on the ground of failure to provide. The parties were married in New York in 1913, and were separated, owing to the treatment of the husband.

PAID HIS FINE. N. Burch, who was arrested for running a gambling joint on East First street last week, pleaded guilty to the charge before Justice Young yesterday, and was fined $100. He handed over the money.

KNIFE VS. FIRECRACKER. Scipio Thompson, Alleged Stabber of Charles Boyd, Arraigned—Former Policeman a Disturber.

Scipio Thompson, the negro alleged to have stabbed Charles Boyd, a white man, in the groin of the Second Baptist Church Monday evening was arraigned yesterday and arraigned in the Police Court before Justice Chambers charged with battery.

It is claimed, assaulted Boyd with a knife because the latter threw a firecracker at him. Boyd was cut in the left wrist and in the neck but his wounds are not of a serious nature. As the black had some provocation for his act the charge against him was made battery instead of assault. Justice Chambers set today for his trial.

RANDOLPH PLEADS GUILTY. Former Patrolman P. R. Randolph pleaded guilty yesterday morning in the Police Court to a charge of disturbing the peace. He was originally arrested for battery, a woman claimed he had hit her, but he was able to prove that he was innocent of this charge but had been mixed up in a fight in the street. When the charge was changed to disturbing the peace he pleaded guilty and was sentenced Saturday.

Three violators of the city ordinance prohibiting the discharge of firearms in the city limits appeared before Justice Chambers yesterday. They were Mrs. Lela Fox, the Kurlinski and L. Pritchard. All had started to celebrate the Fourth by shooting revolvers and all pleaded guilty and were assessed $1 each for their fun.

A WONDERFUL TONIC. Hereford's Acid Phosphate. Cooling, refreshing and invigorating. Diapers that dragged out feeling during spring and summer.

Benekes kept bothering Capitanos for the $270 and the latter eventually offered to turn over to him the candy store if he would assume the debts, and call all debts. The candy store was worth about $1000, not including the stock. Benekes had bought through, but the stock of that $270 arose and chased Capitanos again. It would not be laid. The latter had several times asked Benekes for the note, he said so that it might be destroyed, but it never had been surrendered, and finally Benekes persuaded himself that he ought to have its face value.

Inasmuch as no allusion was made to the note having been wiped out in the bill of sale to the store, Benekes had a fighting chance to recover on the technical interpretation of the law, and he retained a lawyer to create a bill of sale for the money for him. And they did. Justice Pierce gave judgment in favor of Benekes and Capitanos found that he had handed over his candy store for absolutely nothing. But he appeared the case, and Perry Wood, attorney for Benekes, represented him in the fight yesterday before Judge Trask.

All the morning Greek after Greek went upon the witness stand and in the final showdown the court held that without doubt the transfer of the store had been made, and that the wiping out of the note. As soon as judgment was rendered Capitanos went into the corridor and kicked himself money and money. He was in a state of joy at having won out.

WHISPER OF FATE. DR. HOWELL IS COMMITTED. Dr. Frank Howell has been a most temperate man, according to the testimony of his mother, but somehow his brain gets twisted. Yesterday he told Judge Gibbs and the jury that he was a man, and that he was a hypocrite. Well, he would come along and tell him that his life was a mistake and that the sooner he cut it short the better it would be for him. Being a medical man himself he felt naturally disposed to bank on what Dr. John said. He was for him to be a doctor, and presumably knew what he was talking about.

Then along came Jeanne D'Arc and she tipped off Dr. Howell to brace up and be a man, and bid defiance to the fates. As Jeanne was some pumpkins in her days he was willing to give some credence to what she advised, but she knocked out when Sister Catherine waltzed around and whispered in his ear that the only thing for him to do was to lead a Christian life.

Dr. Howell said that he was aware

THE POLITICAL WATCH TOWER

A howl is going up all about the line over the decision of the Republican County Central Committee to hold the August convention at Venice. I have failed yet to find any one who really thinks a sea-side convention would be preferable to one in Los Angeles. Much of this opposition may be due to the old and lingering memories that cling to the historic old Hazard's Pavilion, where political oratory reverberated and where many a shifty trick was turned over years before it was raised.

Candidates have told me in great seriousness that the move means much to the chances of many of them, especially those who have not been assured of the approval of the organization. I have not yet found a representative city delegate who is satisfied with the move.

The principal argument against the move is that it will mean the loss of the city headquarters and offices for an entire week and that delegates, and that in their absence there will go loafers and idlers who will fall with alacrity into the arms of the city fathers and by self-indulgent politicians, either on the convention floor or in places adjacent thereto.

Therefore, when conventions have been held in Los Angeles, it has been possible for merchants and others to do as delegates and yet keep in touch with their pressing affairs, even to the extent of spending a few hours each day at their offices. This will be practically impossible at the Venice convention, and it is urged that it even be difficult for delegates to return to their homes in this city at night.

They do, they will leave the professional plotters to hatch out nefarious schemes and to spring programmes which hardly can fail to go through.

As for the country delegates, I do not see how they can be expected to do as delegates and yet keep in touch with their pressing affairs, even to the extent of spending a few hours each day at their offices. This will be practically impossible at the Venice convention, and it is urged that it even be difficult for delegates to return to their homes in this city at night.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

M. AND MRS. OLIVER C. DRY-
ANT of No. 1534 Magnolia avenue entertained last evening with a card party for members of the Westmoreland Whist Club. The home was prettily decorated in floral designs and ferns, and special guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Millard and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Holmes.

Guests for the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Clark Carlisle, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lacey Swaine, Mr. and Mrs. George P. Thresher, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McAllister, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Walker, Mrs. Laura Armstrong and Maurice Armstrong.

One evening recently Mr. and Mrs. Bryant gave a dinner party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Baumgardt and Dr. and Mrs. John R. Haynes, who departed yesterday for a European trip. The dinner table was a particularly pretty and suggestive one. It was round, and twelve guests were seated about it. In the center, on a large mirror, floated a snowy ship of white and blue, and from the top of the ship to each plate extended narrow green ribbons, ending with an anchor and the names of the guests. Crystal candelabra shaded with green glass, and at each place, was a tiny flag representing one of the places to which the travelers will go.

Miss Genevieve Downing.
An attractive young southern girl from Lexington, Ky., who, for six months, has been the guest of her uncle, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hollingsworth.

MISS GENEVIEVE DOWNING, whom belle, who left Wednesday morning for her home in Kentucky.

of No. 111 Lake street, left yesterday for her home. During her stay here she has been cordially feted, both by the aunt and uncle, and by the friends she has made.

Within ten days for a trip to the Springs and Lake Tahoe.

L. Deheny, N. B. P. W. Braun, C. L. Powell, W. D. Turner, E. L. Deheny, J. L. Horton, S. D. Talmadge, Mrs. Bertha Hirsch, Mrs. Charles, L. E. Giese, A. C. March, W. R. Bennett and Miss Mary Joseph.

St. Paul's Episcopal Church of the West is planning a reception for the officers of the W.R.C. and about seventy friends and members of Stanton Post and Corps, G. A. R. A display of lanterns and flags and bunting outside, and red geraniums inside made very effective decorations. The evening was spent in singing old patriotic songs and "cracking nuts" in the way of amusements. Punch was served all evening by Miss Salada, and ice cream and cake before the departure of the guests.

Alpha Phi Psi Meets.
One of the most enjoyable meetings of the Alpha Phi Psi had for some time was held at the home of Mrs. Chase of Boyle Heights.

Misses Auternell and Zuber had returned from Berkeley, Miss Ella Redmond from Alameda, Miss Abbott from Santa Barbara, and Miss Abbott from Hawaii, and they were given a hearty welcome. The guest of honor, however, was Helen Rosenthal, one of the members of the sorority who is to be married soon. The bride-elect was given a kitchen shower.

Of the many games played none was more unique or enjoyable than the one in which each member present wrote a page for a little heart-shaped book labeled "Receipts for Domesticity."

After the many games the guests were invited into a beautifully decorated dining-room, where dark red geraniums and long strings of red hearts made the room attractive.

Each place card was a prophecy and a little story filled with rice, which was gaily thrown at the bride-elect at the conclusion of the luncheon.

Those present were: Misses Auternell, Zuber, Marsha and Isabel Sylvia, Willis, Roife, McCormick, Mary and Anna Sterritt, Abbott, Baron, Couvreyer, Misses Chase and Anderson.

Celebrates Birthday.
An enjoyable time was had at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Alford, No. 1329 Carroll avenue, the occasion being the 17th birthday of Miss Fannie, their eldest daughter. The spacious house was beautifully decorated. The parlors were in red and green, and the library and halls in a variety of fragrant flowers. The dining-room was in white and green, covers being laid for twenty. After music and games, dainty refreshments, the delicious birthday cake with its seventeen candles containing two prizes was very much admired. Each guest engaged for the piece that held the prize. Miss Alford was the recipient of many beautiful presents. The jolly crowd left at a late hour, wishing the young hostess many returns of the day.

Notes and Personal.
Mrs. Tom Otis of Hotel Redondo left for Chicago to be gone several weeks on a visit to her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Chase are spending a few weeks at Redondo.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Garland and family are at Catalina Island for the summer.

Mr. Charles Walsh of No. 149 East Thirty-third street entertained a thimble club of the L. O. T. M. A luncheon was served and music was given by Master Donkise, a clever boy pianist. Arrangements were made for a picnic at Venice the 26th inst.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Goldberg announce the confirmation of their son, Joseph, to take place on Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock. On Sunday afternoon they will receive at their home, No. 634 Sunset boulevard.

George W. Golding and Arthur Helmsman left for a two months' trip, and will visit the leading cities of the East.

Dr. H. G. McNeil and J. H. McNeil of No. 1315 South Figueroa street have started on a trip to San Francisco, Lake Tahoe and other points, to be gone several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Gotthelf of No. 692 Union avenue have returned from their European travels. After their trip they will take a cottage at Santa Monica for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. James Irving of No. 1024 West Twenty-fourth street will leave tomorrow for a visit of several weeks at Lake Tahoe, and on the return trip will stop off at San Francisco to see the ruins.

Mr. Albert C. Calkins, accompanied by his children, is enjoying a month's stay at Idyllwild.

James Smith left a few days ago for New York on a purchasing trip for his store.

Mrs. R. W. Gushall and sister, Mrs. Alice McCabe, of Pueblo, Colo., are staying at No. 568 South Hill street.

Mrs. Frank Caldwell, No. 2607 Darwin avenue, has returned from Yosemite Valley, where she went to join Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Gower.

Y.M.C.A. WILL OPEN HOME.
Friends of the Organization Invited to Inspect Its New Quarters This Evening.

The Young Men's Christian Association will be at home to its friends, both ladies and gentlemen tonight, at its opening reception in the new temporary quarters at No. 414 South Broadway. "Open houses" will be observed all day, and this house-warming occasion promises to be notable in the history of the local association. The members will be on hand to receive visitors from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night. The general public is invited.

While the rooms will be open for inspection during the day, great plans are being laid for the big reception in the evening from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. The orchestra of the First Presbyterian Church will render selections, ladies will serve punch, and a delightful season of informal good time will be enjoyed. During the evening the following selections will be rendered in an informal way: Soprano solo, Mrs. C. J. Irwin of the First Presbyterian Church choir; reading, Emerson Knight; selections, quartette of the association; duet, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Irwin—the director and soprano of the First Presbyterian Church choir; Prof. N. L. Eldredge, accompanist and piano soloist.

This opening reception marks the beginning of an era of social activities which have been impossible heretofore. The first floor contains the lobby, costly furnished with settees and chairs, a general office, the parlors with folding doors connecting the reading-room with magazines and papers, which will be used on Sunday for the gospel meeting for men; several rooms of educational, evening classes and bible classes, and the work room.

The upstairs contains eight rooms for dormitories, each of which is newly furnished. Equipped with all conveniences, and rented to members at a reasonable rate, the dormitories will introduce a feature of the work of the association which has never been attempted in Los Angeles, but which has achieved remarkable success in eastern cities. New York City erected a building especially for dormitories, and the new building for the Los Angeles association is to have considerable space devoted to dormitories.

The new quarters have been repainted, newly papered and newly carpeted. Everything impresses the visitor with a sense of freshness. The public is cordially invited to inspect the new quarters, and General Secretary Luther with his corps of assistants, is ready to show visitors over the new place.

Judge Curtis D. Wilbur will speak to men at the Association rooms Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. This will be the opening gospel address to men in the new quarters, and a large attendance is expected.

FIRE ON SUNSET BOULEVARD.

Grocery Store, Butcher Shop and Real Estate Office Go Up in Smoke.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the one-story frame building at No. 1601 Sunset boulevard and its contents early yesterday morning. The blaze was discovered by neighbors who turned in an alarm at 2:40 o'clock a.m. The flames had gained great headway when the firemen arrived and it was impossible to save the building.

I. D. Williamson occupied the store-room at No. 1601 with a grocery store, J. A. Murry had a butcher shop at No. 1603 and George Willard's real estate office was located at No. 1605, all of which went up in smoke. The building was owned by Frank Willard, son of the real estate dealer.

The fire was discovered in the rear part of the butcher shop. Neighbors turned out with garden hoses and buckets and did their best to save the building. The only thing of value saved was the cash register of the grocery store.

The building was valued at $1500. Frank Willard carried $1000 insurance on the property. Williamson valued his stock of groceries and the fixtures in his store at $2500 and carried $2000 insurance. Murry estimated his loss at $600, with $200 insurance. George Willard estimates his loss at $2500 with no insurance.

PROTECTION FOR BERRIES.

Fruit for Sale Must Be Kept from Dust and Dirt and Flies, Says Health Board.

The ire of the Board of Health members is aroused at what they term the careless manner in which small fruits are exposed for sale on the streets of Los Angeles. A stiff ordinance aimed directly at peddlers who are careless was drawn up last night at the board's meeting, and inspectors will seize all fruit, such as strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, guavas and the like offered for sale without protection from dust, dirt and flies.

Health Officer Powers prepared a lengthy ordinance, which was read last night. It deals especially with those who have been guilty of exposing fruits for sale in unprotected stands. Peddlers will, perhaps, be the hardest hit, as the ordinance will make it impossible for them to use their wares as fruit stands. Citrus fruits, apples and bananas are exempt.

The action of the board is in keeping with recent efforts to prevent diseases in the handling of fruits and vegetables. Reports showed that a large quantity of cantaloupes, which were found to be unfit for food, had been destroyed.

Measures providing for the regulation and conduct of children's hospitals, and a special ordinance providing for a thorough food inspection for every such institution was passed.

The loss of four men and of the three-masted schooner Ella G. Eels of Rockport, Me., was reported in a message Thursday from Capt. W. A. Green of the schooner, the only survivor.

Saturday We Celebrate

FREE TICKETS TO VENICE ATTRACTIONS. TICKETS GIVEN AWAY FRIDAY AND SATURDAY MORNING

SAVANTS AT PAN-AMERICAN.

Distinguished Delegates for the Conference.

Six Republics Are to Send Representatives.

An Interesting Itinerary Is Planned.

BY J. ORTON KERBEY,
(Ex-Correspondent to the Times.)

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The Pan-American conference, soon to assemble at Rio de Janeiro, will be composed of distinguished delegates from the republics of South and Central America, Mexico, Cuba and Porto Rico, as well as from the United States, among whose representatives will be such prominent persons as the Hon. William L. Buchanan, professor of the University of Wisconsin and Professor Rowe of the University of Pennsylvania. Ex-Governor Montague of Virginia and Van Leer Polk of Tennessee, with Tullio Larrosa, assistant commissioner from Porto Rico, will look after the interests of our South.

The Bureau of American Republics, with its present headquarters in Washington, will send a clerical delegation, accompanied by the director, Mr. Fox, who will not, however, participate in the discussions.

Secretary Root, who goes with his family on the regular Charleston, will be a distinguished guest at Rio during part of the sessions, but in no sense an official representative of the government at this conference.

His mission may be termed an accessory one, but it is entirely independent of the congress, including officials of the republics of the Atlantic and Pacific sides of Panama, the itinerary also including visits to the capital cities of Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, sailing around Cape Horn and up west coast, making calls at Valparaiso, and availing himself of the invitation to visit Santiago, the capital of Chile, situated in the interior, and thence to Callao, to enjoy the hospitality of Peru at Lima. After brief stops at Guayaquil in Ecuador, he will proceed to Panama, and thence home by train, in September or early in October.

As it is now winter below the equator, the climate in Rio and in the Argentine corresponds to the winter in Florida, and the west coast of Chile and Peru is like a California winter. Secretary Root's family will enjoy the delights of balmy weather on the peaceful shores of the Pacific, surrounded by every comfort the government officials can give.

The opinion is ventured that the secretary will reach the conclusion that our neighboring continent of South America offers opportunities for Pan-American development far more valuable than may be expected in the Far East or in the Philippines; and, moreover, that it is not necessary to delay the benefits until the completion of the Panama Canal, or even to await the construction of the Trans-Andean Railroad.

A WISE SELECTION.

In the days of the empire, under Dom Pedro's reign, it used to be said of our diplomatic representatives to Rio that they were selected more for regard to their qualifications as poker players than for any diplomatic abilities. In no other direction has the President shown greater foresight or good luck than in his wise selection of this Pan-American conference, and in the selection of Secretary Root, a long-distance director, and Mr. Buchanan, chairman of a delegation of truly representative Americans.

It is no disparagement to the chairman to say of him that during many years he ably represented the United States as minister in the neighboring city of Buenos Ayres.

The writer, who crossed Argentina recently from Buenos Ayres over the Chilean Andes to the Pacific, can bear testimony to the fact that this American minister, who occupies much of his abundant leisure in study and in travel and exploration of the interior, was well and favorably known—not only at his post, but all over South America—as a quiet American gentleman of culture and of means to gratify his taste for investigation.

Mr. Buchanan, who recently resigned a diplomatic mission to Central America, has been induced to accept the present position because of his well-known diplomatic achievements, as well as for his familiarity with the language and people of the continent.

In a general way everybody who is interested in South American matters understands that the primary purpose of the conference is to develop a means for concentrating the efforts of the several republics toward a closer union for mutual protection and development.

Among the many questions probably none will be of greater interest than that of the necessity for more direct communication through direct transportation, which, it is said, is always followed by increased trade and prosperity.

POOR TRANSPORTATION.

The fact that the several delegates from the diplomatic corps of Washington, including Ambassador of Brazil and his secretaries, as well as the American commissioners, General Montagu, wife and daughter and Professor Rowe, could not get accommodation on any steamer sailing direct from New York to Rio de Janeiro, with calls at Pernambuco and Bahia, and others that sail direct to the River Plate at Buenos Ayres, while a separate company, controlled by the American firm of Grace & Co., has chosen the voyage via the straits to Chile and Peru on the west coast, without any calls en route. Still another English company enjoys exclusive sailings to North Brazil to the Amazon, via Barbados.

Excepting the line to Panama, all of these are English or German ships, controlled abroad by owners and managers who have agreed among themselves upon a system of dividing the seas and ports of South America in the same time giving them practical control of the wharves and landing privileges to the exclusion of ships not in their combine.

The first-class fare to Rio by the second-class ships is from $125 to $145, the average time between the ports being from 22 to 26 days, depending on calls.

As the vessels in this New York and South American trade are designed more for cargo, the passenger traffic being limited, the accommodations are not so good as that afforded on other routes, the fares via Europe averaging about the same, while the time is almost equal.

POSITION PECULIAR.

A glance at the maps of North and South America and Europe will surprise many who imagine South America to be directly south of us, when it is far to the southeast. A North Star line along the Atlantic Coast of the United States will pass through the Isthmus of Panama along the west coast of South America.

This conformation makes the voyage to Rio via England appear more practicable, with the decidedly superior facilities of the several large steamship lines, with regular sailings from England, France, Germany, Italy, give the traveler a choice of a number of ships, sailing from Liverpool, Southampton, Hamburg, Havre, Lisbon and the Mediterranean, the time from Europe to Rio being but seventeen days by fast steamers.

The writer may be permitted to act as guide for a personally conducted party, and have his advice on a previous experience over the route from Europe.

THE DEPARTURE.

We will take one of the elegant 10-ton steamers of the Royal Mail, sailing from Southampton every Friday. Very good first-class cabin accommodations to Rio may be had for precisely the same fare as from New York, while the fastidious traveler may enjoy "cabins de luxe"—comprising large suites on the promenade deck and consisting of bedrooms with two brass beds and a large wardrobe, bathroom, with hot and cold water, lavatory and sitting-room, each room fitted with electric fans, an innovation to be appreciated by travelers in the tropical sea.

The ships sailing from New York to Rio are frequently twenty to thirty days out of sight of land. The travelers by Royal Mail may enjoy the advantages of first-class travel through a most agreeable part of the world, seldom being out of sight of interesting lands.

The first is a brief stop at Cherbourg in France, and after a day's rough sailing over the "Bay of Biscay," the second call is made in Spain at the historic port of Vigo, where one may view beautiful Spanish scenery, the hillside dotted with fortresses and old castles.

Leaving the soil and sights of Spain with regret, we sail down the coast famous for its many naval fights, ascend the River Tagus to Lisbon in Portugal. Sailing up this broad river, past many beautiful castles, we reach the castle on the hill and are told by an enthusiastic girl that "the king is in his castle," as the Portuguese call the royal residence.

A few hours may be enjoyed ashore in the beautiful city of Lisbon. From this point letters and newspapers may be mailed.

LEAVING LISBON.

The voyage to South America by this route may be begun at this, the seaport of the Fatherland of Brazil, by taking a railway from Paris or Madrid to Lisbon. Some of the ships go to the sanitarium on the Island of Madeira, a couple of days' sailing from Lisbon. Others sail direct to the Canary Islands, nearing which, we get a first view of the Peaks of Teneriffe long before we can see the other land.

The next point is the Cape de Verde, where we are all glad to go ashore during the entire day given over to the ships to perform the disagreeable and dirty work of coaling.

From this coasting, almost within sight of Africa, the ship points her bow westward and after passing close enough to see the coasts of the famous, or infamous, penal colony of Portugal, situated on the desolate island, we sail across the "Southern Atlantic" to the furthestmost western point of South America—Pernambuco. "The Beautiful," that famous city of Brazil, which ever seems to extend a welcome hand toward the East.

In another day's sailing along the Brazilian coast, we reach Bahia, and a day and night following we enter the grand harbor of South America, completing the voyage to Rio de Janeiro in seventeen days of delightful travel.

MYSTERY OF SLEEP.

Chinaman Condemned to Go Without It, and His Terrible Torture.

What the Mind May Do.

It is related of a Chinese merchant, who was convicted of wife murder and sentenced to die by being deprived of sleep, that he was placed in prison with guards changed hourly for the purpose of preventing him from sleeping. After the commencement of the eighth day, according to Harper's Weekly, his suffering was so intense that he implored the authorities to strangle, gallotene, burn him, drown him, garrote, shoot, quarter, blow up with gunpowder, or put him to death in any conceivable way.

Natural sleep has been defined as mental rest produced by an appetite resulting from fatigue. But the idea that mental rest is possible in such a position is hardly tenable, inasmuch as it quite frequently happens that the solution of unsolved problems is the first thing to appear in the consciousness on awakening, and thus the mind must have been operative while asleep.

It is commonly supposed that the greatest depth of sleep occurs about the end of the first hour. This, however, is not invariably the rule, according to my own observations in the Cook county (Chicago) insane asylum made some years ago. When I spent two successive nights in hourly testing the depth of sleep by light, sound and touch. A majority of the 10 cases I had under observation showed the greatest depth to be about 3 a. m. More recently Drs. Sante de Sanctis and N. Noyes, at the University of Rome, tested the depth of sleep in four normal persons by pressure upon the temple. One of these showed the greatest depth of sleep in the second and fifth hours, while the others showed the greatest depth between the first and second hours.

Talking in sleep is more common than is generally supposed. Armstrong and Child found in 200 students, between the ages of 20 and 30 years, that 41 per cent. of the men and 27 per cent. of the women talked in their sleep, and most of them could answer questions.

Couldn't Believe It.

Senator Clapp of Minnesota was campaigning in Indiana on one occasion, accompanied by a young man chosen by the state committee. After his first speech the young man asked the senator what he would have in the way of refreshments. "A Swiss cheese sandwich and some cold beer," was the reply. His guide took him to a restaurant, where the Senator was supplied with a fine steak and trimmings. Mr. Clapp thought this was odd, but made no protest. However, after several requests for sandwiches and beer had been turned down smilingly he demanded to know why he could not have what he wanted. "Why, senator," said the young man, "I thought you were only joking. I didn't know you really wanted it. I always went out and got some myself after you had gone to bed, but I didn't imagine the United States Senator would condescend to cheese sandwiches and beer."—Philadelphia Record.

RAILROADS RUSH MEXICAN LINES

SOUTHWESTERN AND SOUTHERN PACIFIC LOCK HORNS.

New Branch Systems Will Be Extended South to Sonora Districts. Big Freight Locomotives in Arizona Are Proving Money-Savers. Strike at Nogales.

TUCSON (Ariz.)—June 30.—The Southern Pacific and Southwestern Railway systems appear to have locked horns near Nogales, Mex., the terminus of the Nacozari Railroad, the southwestern mining branch running south from Douglas. It has been expected for several years that the Nacozari road would be extended southward to Moctezuma, Campes and other important Sonora mining districts. A few days ago a Southern Pacific party of engineers arrived at Nogales, and began the location of a line along the route that had been selected, though not appropriated, by its rival. It is understood that a Southern Pacific road is to be built down the Yaqui River to a connection with the Coast line now being built by Randolph south from Guaymas. This new line is to start on the border, either at Douglas or San Bernardino ranch, a few miles to the eastward.

For several years material has been stacked up at Cochise Station for the extension of the Pacific branch southward to Bisbee and Douglas, but surveys have been run as well from Fairbank, on the New Mexico and Arizona road, to Naco, where connection would be made with the Cananea road, still another of the many Randolph lines that are destined to become enormous feeders of freight to the main system. At the present time the profits on the immense Cananea freight traffic go very largely to the Southwestern, which has the haul from Naco to El Paso. There seems no doubt that before many months the Southern Pacific will have a branch line into Naco. It has surveys completed over several routes and a few miles of grade, here and there, where a right of way could be maintained.

NEW LINE TO GLOBE.

The Southwestern is owned by Phelps, Dodge & Co., owners as well of the Copper Queen, Nacozari and Detroit mines, the last named being at Morenci. The firm also has a controlling interest in the Old Dominion copper mines at Globe, a camp now reached only by the Gila Valley, Globe and Northern, a Randolph road. There have been rumors of trouble over freight rates exacted by the Southern Pacific from Globe to El Paso and other rumors that the Phelps-Dodge company is preparing to run its own line into Globe, probably from York or Pecos, on the Arizona and New Mexico Railway, a line owned by friendly interests and practically a branch of the Southwestern.

The Globe branch of the Southern Pacific has been put into good shape, a readiness for use as a part of the new trunk line to Colorado, through Globe and as a part of the low-grade main line that is being built through the Gila Cañon westward from San Carlos.

WILL TAP RICH REGION.

There has been opened for traffic a forty-three-mile section of the Cananea, Yaqui River and Pacific road, from Chusma Junction to Potam. About 4000 laborers are employed upon this great undertaking, which is to secure to the Southern Pacific control of the transportation of the rich west coast of Mexico. The region is of prolific richness, full of mines that have been worked for centuries, the valley rich in the production of coffee and of all tropical fruits. The valley of the Rio Puerro is considered the richest of all. It will be remembered that a disastrous American colonization scheme a dozen or more years ago, brought in thousands of hard workers to be required to complete the new road through to Sustulajara, where railroad connection is to be made with the City of Mexico. The question of labor is the main one. Workmen are being brought in from the interior of Mexico and hundreds of negroes are being recruited in the Mississippi valley, the best of Mexican color that they will stand than white workers.

BIG ENGINES O.K.

The giant freight locomotives lately ordered on the Arizona divisions of the Southern Pacific have proved money-savers. They are hauling 12 per cent. more freight than at any time in the past year and at considerably lower cost.

The question of pure water for use in the Arizona divisions of the Southern Pacific is being given consideration at the line of the Southwestern at Globe. At this place a dam is being erected that will filter Yuma water and precipitate all alkali, leaving pure water for use in the construction of the new Southern Pacific line. The dam has been designed by the Southern Pacific and is being built by the company at a cost of $100,000. The dam will be completed in the fall of 1906, and will supply water to the new line and to the existing lines of the Southern Pacific.

DEDICATION ON FOURTH.

A short distance of line remains to be completed of the twenty-three miles of the Twip Buttes Railroad out of the Twip Buttes. It is being prepared to be extended to the line of the Santa Cruz Valley and to the Santa Cruz Valley. The line will be a fine example of the company's work in the construction of the new line. The line will be completed in the fall of 1906, and will supply water to the new line and to the existing lines of the Southern Pacific.

STRIKE AT NOGALES.

Nogales is having a taste of labor trouble. The largest manufacturing concern along the border is the Roy Manufacturing Company, owner of a large mining patronage in Sonora. Its works closed down yesterday, the men walking out when they were offered only nine cents a day, with the same pay as before. It is believed improbable that the company will yield. The Nacozari Cigar Company, employing more than 100 hands, mainly Mexicans, has been threatened with a strike following the refusal of the company to raise wages, and it is expected that a strike is imminent. More than a year complaints the
